

LILGE MURDER CASE POSTPONED TWO WEEKS

Supreme Court Opened this Morning Before Judge Scott—
Prisoners Arraigned—Hoover Theft Case Begun

The spring sittings of the supreme court opened this morning at 10 o'clock in the court room in the Sandison block, Justice Scott presiding. Along line of prisoners were at the docket waiting to answer to various criminal charges. The court room was crowded, the case attracting the most attention being that of Ludwig Lilge, charged with the murder of Wm. Leale at Bruderheim a year ago. Lilge was tried last year before Chief Justice Sifton, the jury disagreeing. The counsel for the prisoner, O. M. Biggar, moved at the opening of the court this morning for an adjournment of the case as the evidence taken at the last trial was not yet received from the court reporter at Calgary and it would be almost impossible to go on with the trial without the minutes of the last trial. The trial was postponed to together with that of Baker Van Meter, charged with fraud, who pleaded not guilty, and elected to be tried by jury, until the 19th inst. These are the only two jury cases on the docket.

E. C. S. Hoover was next arraigned before the court on a charge of theft, and pleaded not guilty. Robert Lockhart, charged with theft, pleaded not guilty. He is defended by H. Robertson.

John Bieler was called, but did not appear. His bondsmen were John Stephens and John Warch, who had produced bail for Bieler for $350 each. J. B. Johnson, charged with arson, pleaded not guilty and was elected to be tried before His Worship. O. M. Biggar is defending him.

Wm. Lamoureux pleaded guilty to two charges, that of forgery and also of breaking from custody. Christopher and Henry Schulties were charged with theft of horses and pleaded not guilty. They are defended jointly by Messrs. Biggar and Newell. Geo. Franklin charged with fraud pleaded not guilty. He is defended by O. M. Biggar.

The case of Guy Baxter, charged with shooting with intent, was postponed until after the jury cases. Mr. Mills produced a medical certificate to the effect that Baxter was ill in bed and unable to attend court.

E. C. S. Hoover was the first prisoner to be tried before his Lordship this morning. Hoover is charged with stealing various articles from W. J. Bieler on the 22nd November last at Lamoureux. Bieler was the first witness called and stated that he went to Fort Saskatchewan from Edmonton on the 22nd, and met Hoover at the Manson House. Bieler left his team across the river at Marston's stopping place. In the afternoon he crossed the river to Marston in company with Hoover and when he reached the other side he missed his pocketbook. He went back to the Fort to look for it, and when he came back to Marston's after dark, his team, which had been hitched up in readiness to return to Edmonton was gone. He found them on the 25th again in McKinley's stable, Edmonton. He never recovered his pocketbook. Other witnesses called were Marston, the man who kept the stopping place and George McCormack who all testified to the fact that Hoover and Bieler were drinking pretty freely. The case was dismissed this afternoon.

The warm weather has started people talking "baseball and the chances for a good team this year are being anxiously discussed.

John A. Flowering who was charged on Jan. 30 at this session with stealing gram and did not appear at court made his appearance Feb. 1st, pleaded not guilty and was remanded till the next sitting of the court. He gave bail for $1,000 and was released.

There were eleven cases remanded from the court until next sitting. They range from attempted rape on a child of six to housebreaking and inflicting bodily harm by shooting.

Four of the prisoners demanded trial by jury. The following is the list of prisoners arraigned: All pleaded not guilty.

John A. Longhore assault and doing bodily harm, Thos Laricins stealing better, John Morgan stealing mare, W. L. Duff fraudulently taking and keeping possession of horse, Oliver Linn breaking by night into house of one, Dominique and breaking by shooting, O. Williams stealing cattle, John A. Flowering stealing grain, Patrick McCarty attempting rape, Lorne Sutherland stealing horse and two sets harness.

The entries at the Dominion Lands office Red Deer for the month ending Jan. 31 amounted to 152. This is a gain of 86 in the corresponding month last year.

CITY ELECTRICIAN FAVORS THE AUTOMATIC

City Electrician Ormsby, who was not with the excursion to Winnipeg, but is fairly familiar with the workings of the automatic telephone, says that it is the system that would suit Edmonton.

Ormsby saw one of the first automatic systems in Canada installed, and while there were some problems connected with the system at that time, which had to be solved, these defects have been overcome, and the city electrician believes that the automatic is now as accurate as any system can be, besides being cheaper.

WINNIPEG WILL HAVE GAS PLANT

Tenders of an English Firm Accepted by the City Council

Winnipeg, Feb. 5.—At the city council meeting last night, tenders were considered regarding the gas producing plant for Winnipeg. Only two were before the Aldermen, that of Crosby & Co., Manchester, England and Woods & Co., Philadelphia. The former's tender for $114,000 was eventually accepted, although Woods' tender was but for $92,000. The reason for the acceptance of the larger tender was that the English plant was considered the more complete and up-to-date. There was only one dissatisfied voice at the vote.

ELECTRIC COMPANY GETS THE LINE

Shuffle by Which the Road May Gain Entrance to Winnipeg

Winnipeg, Feb. 5.—The terms for the transfer of the Winnipeg, Selkirk and Lake Winnipeg Electric Street Railway Company have been drawn up. With the opening of the Provincial Legislature a bill was presented asking that the Winnipeg, Selkirk and Lake Winnipeg Company be given power to enter the city. This bill was presented and while it has been before the House for a couple of weeks, no action has been taken. An attempt to rush it through on the first reading was blocked in the house and the papers have since been allowed to stand. At the director's meeting held last week the terms of the statement were arrived at. These will be submitted to a meeting of the shareholders to be held on Feb. 27th for ratification.

COUNCIL MEETS THIS EVENING

There are only five members of the Aldermanic board in the city today and one of the commissioners is absent, but the city council will meet as usual this evening.

Mayor May and Aldermen Manson and Boyle are in Chicago looking into the merits of the Chicago automatic telephone appliances. Ad. Griesbach is in Calgary and Commissioner J. G. Kinnaird stopped over on his return from the Winnipeg excursion to visit his parents in Neepawa.

The aldermen who will be present this evening are Messrs. Mays, Latta, Bellamy, Smith, and Picard.

EDMONTON MEN IN MINNEAPOLIS

Minneapolis Tribune: A party of Canadian gentlemen from Edmonton, Alberta, headed by Mayor Charles May, stopped off in Minneapolis this morning to see the flour mills, make a few enquiries regarding street paving and take a swing around the wonderful city of which they have heard so much. The party includes John Irvin, Mills and Aldermen J. R. Boyle and R. J. Manson.

Their objective point is Grand Rapids, Mich., where they will inspect the automatic telephone service of that city with a view of installing a similar one in Edmonton. C. L. Fisher of the telephone company, is a member of the party.

"We are about to install a new telephone plant," said Mayor May, "and as our municipality looks after electric lighting, telephones and other public business, we have decided to investigate the merits of the automatic telephone device which does away with the services of operators. Our present system is inefficient, and as Edmonton now has a population of 12,000 and Strathcona, just across the river, has 4,000 people, we want the best telephone system extant.

"We want to get started right in the matter of street paving also and will call on your city engineer for a few pointers.

"Our city is growing at a wonderful rate. We have the finest lignite coal in the world in inexhaustible quantities, and it is brought to market just as hay is to your Minneapolis market.

"We have lately discovered natural gas at a depth of some 1,400 feet, and we feel that we are very fortunately situated. Our city is beautifully located on a hill on the Saskatchewan, and with the enterprising little city of Strathcona just across the stream, we have become an important centre in the Northwest.

Mayor May said that Edmonton would shortly have three miles of municipal street car tracks, the cars of which would be operated by electricity furnished by the municipal electric plant.

BETTER PRICES ON FARMER'S MARKETS

The farmers' market shows a decided improvement for the past few days. Oats are higher by a cent to two cents, and prices are firm with a steady rising tendency. Hay is better in price for upland and slough, although the market is dull and the demand uncertain. Wheat deliveries are light in Edmonton but better down the line, with prices steady and unchanged. The Alberta Milling Co. quotes wheat at 65 cents for No. 1 northern, 62 for No. 2 and 55c for No. 3.

The following are the quotations on the city market.

Oats, feed, 25c.
Oats, milling, 26c.
O Barley, 25c.
Slough hay, $6 to $8.
Upland hay, $8 to $11.
Timothy, $14 to $15.
Clover, $16.
Deliveries—Better on coal; oats moving steadily and increasing; barley, light; hay rather dull.

INTERCOLONIAL SHOWS MUCH IMPROVEMENT

Expenses Decreased and Revenue Enlarged—Surplus for December

Ottawa, Feb. 5.—There is a marked improvement in the position of the Intercolonial Railway for the first six months of the fiscal year compared with the same time in 1904. The statement furnished by the railway department shows that during this period there was an increase in the working expenses of $175,799 and an increase in revenue of $232,090, making a betterment of $411,456. For the month of December there was a surplus of $9,871. There is still a small deficit of $71,800.

G.T.P. TENDERS CALLED FOR

The call for tenders for the construction of two sections and a bridge of the transcontinental railway is published in the Canada Gazette.

There are three tenders called for. One is for the section of road from a point at Winnipeg to the junction of the Grand Trunk Pacific railway from Lake Superior, a distance of 245 miles. The other is for a stretch from Quebec to a point near La Tuque, a distance of 150 miles. This will put 385 miles under construction. In addition to this tenders are asked for a steel bridge at Cape Rouge.

The tenders will require to be in Ottawa on March 12, when the time for receiving them will be closed. The call for tenders gives notice that the work will have to be under the fair wages agreement, that is to say the current wages in the district, or a fair and reasonable wage must be paid. When any disagreement on any point arises the commissioners must decide.

Another provision is that supplies and material for the work must be purchased in Canada, as far as possible. Contractors must guard against forest fires, and the work must be completed by Sept. 1, 1907, the same time as the G.T.P. branch from Fort William.

The west end of the work will require a reliable and substantial firm to carry it through. The contract will amount to something like $8,000,000; therefore, $400,000 will have to be put up accompanying the tender.

After the tender for the western contract is accepted the commissioners have authority to call for a further guarantee up to a third, which would be $2,000,000; therefore the work is not likely to go to a firm which would not be able to carry it through.

PREACHERS WILL LIMIT DISCUSSIONS.

Winnipeg, Feb. 6.—A hot discussion of civic questions, such as the Sunday car problem, has not tended to the formation of an active and numerically strong ministerial association seemed to be the opinion among the clergymen who assembled at the Y.M.C.A. building, in a meeting of the Winnipeg Ministerial Association.

Rev. J. L. Gordon, president of the organization, and the Rev. J. B. Warricker, contended that there should be more of a social element in the gatherings of the association, and based their views on experience gained in membership in the Toronto Ministerial Association. They took the ground that there were many subjects of direct interest to ministers that might be discussed at the usual fortnightly meetings of the city clergymen, without taking up matters dealing with questions of civic provincial or dominion administration.

TEMPLEMAN GETS PORTFOLIO.

Ottawa, Feb. 6.—Tomorrow forenoon Hon. L. P. Brodner will be sworn in as Minister of Marine and Fisheries, and Senator Templeman will be sworn in as Minister of Inland Revenue.

SETTLEMENT IN SIGHT.

Winnipeg, Feb. 6.—It is stated by the Canadian Pacific officials that the trouble in connection with the walk-out of 69 men employed in the stores department of the company, will probably be adjusted today, and it is confidently anticipated that in any case the date of settlement will not be deferred longer than the end of the week.

VANGUARD OF GREAT IMMIGRATION MOVEMENT

New Comers from Northern States Foretell a Rush to Edmonton Surpassing all Precedents During the Coming Spring

The spring rush at the Immigration Office has not begun yet, but the advance guard of the vast army that is to come in this spring has already commenced to reach this city, and they bring with them almost unbelievable stories of the rush that may be expected here during the coming summer. From Kansas, Nebraska, Washington, Dakota and Iowa the story is always the same. They are coming literally in thousands.

One man who arrived from Stoddard, Neb., a few days ago, told C. W. Sutter, local immigration agent, that he was the first of hundreds who would come from his part of the country—that, in fact, there were more of them coming to Alberta than there were intending to stay home.

James Pease, from the state of Washington, says that he is the first of a large crowd that will follow from his part of the state and from all other parts. John Battie and his son, Wm. Battie, with their wives and families, came in from Parkston, South Dakota, a few days ago and leased a farm close to Strathcona, which they intend to work this season before going out to homes. They say that there will be more people than ever from South Dakota this year.

The inquiries that are coming in at the immigration office from all parts of the States, all apparently written by people who have decided to come north in the near future, indicate without doubt that the predictions of the leaders of the rush are correct.

There is going to be a great rush for homestead land in the country to the north and west of the city during the next few months. At the present time there is hardly any homestead land open within sixty miles of the city of Edmonton, but within one hundred miles, either to the west, northwest, north and south-east there are large areas that have not been taken up yet, and in fact some parts of the territory within one hundred miles of the city have not been surveyed yet. Most of this land has heretofore been considered inaccessible on account of the fact that there were no railways, but the branches projected by the Canadian Pacific, the Canadian Northern and the Grand Trunk Pacific, and the certainty that the main line of the Grand Trunk Pacific will be tapping the valley of the Peace within the next three years, as well as opening up an immense area of country to the south-east of the city, puts the homesteading proposition in an entirely different light and many of the incoming settlers say that something will happen in this country very much resembling what took place in the Red River Valley in 1881, when the settlers rushed in there, and in one year settled a country which almost in a season they turned into the greatest wheat growing country in the world. The same thing, they say, is liable to happen in the unsettled parts of Alberta this summer, and settlers may be found going a hundred or two hundred miles back, beyond all surveys, to squat on the land and wait for the railroad which they know will not be long in coming. Under any circumstances it will keep the surveyors busy to get the land surveyed enough to have a homestead ready for every settler who comes in during the coming summer.

Leffbridge News: We believe we voice the unanimous opinion of Southern Alberta, when we say the people here will not stand for an increased duty on fruit to protect the fruit raisers of Ontario. The government must remember Ontario is not all of Canada. It is all very well for the fruit farmers up the east to demand protection but it must be remembered that the thousands of people living in the west want fruit at cheaper rates and in better condition than the Ontario men can supply it. In order to get what we want we have to look to the fruit sections of the western states, and the prices for berries, pears and peaches, we get from there are high enough now, without stamping a duty on to put money in the pockets of the growers of Ontario and take money out of the pockets of the consumers of the west.

MANITOBA MARRIAGE LAW.

(Winnipeg Tribune.)

Rev. Alex. McMillan, pastor of the Church of Christ, directs attention to some of the provisions of the Marriage Act now before the Legislature.

It is a remarkable thing that our marriage laws - unquestionably one of the most important branches of our whole code of laws - should be so unfamiliar to the general public that probably not one man in a hundred has any idea of the persons he is forbidden to marry. Such, however, is the case.

Here is the list of persons that a man may not marry, according to the law with which our legislators are now dealing:

1. Grandmother.
2. Grandfather's wife.
3. Wife's grandmother.
4. Aunt.
5. Uncle's wife.
6. Wife's aunt.
7. Mother.
8. Step-mother.
9. Wife's mother.
10. Daughter.
11. Wife's daughter.
12. Son's wife.
13. Sister.
14. Granddaughter.
15. Grandson's wife.
16. Wife's granddaughter.
17. Niece.
18. Nephew's wife.
19. Wife's niece.
20. Brother's wife.

This list is obviously a survival of the old church rule of the state, when every mediaeval superstition was incorporated in the laws of the land.

Some of these prohibitions are so absurd as to be wholly idiotic. Rev. Alex. McMillan calls this tyranny. It is worse; it is stupid.

We laugh at England for her silly law prohibiting a man marrying his deceased wife's sister - but in what respect is it more ridiculous than our own law, which prohibits a woman from marrying her deceased husband's brother?

Not only is a man forbidden to marry his deceased wife's sister, but his deceased wife's niece! His uncle's wife and wife's aunt are also on the prohibited list.

This list is a beautiful specimen of tyrannical mediaevalism for our legislators to treat with mock respect and to permit to stand upon the statutes of a country that seriously claims the rights of freedom!

Surely this list can not be complete. Is it lawful for a man to adopt his deceased wife's grandmother's poodle? Would a man leave himself open to criminal prosecution, if his wife's uncle kissed his sister-in-law's aunt? What sentence would be imposed, if you induced your nephew's hired man to chop your wood? What, in the meaning of the law, is the blood relationship, or consanguinity, between your wife's grandmother's pet parrot and your son's wife's cat?

If the law would step in and permanently put a stop to the shocking relations so frequently existing between the dairyman's milkmaid and his pump, the moral and physical health of the community would be greatly improved. But the perpetuating of tyrannical prohibitions - which had their origin in mediaeval superstitions - in regard to the marriage of mere nominal relations, deserves nothing but unequivocal condemnation.

EXPLORER MAY BE JAILED.

JAILED.

When some eighteen months ago Thomas Caradoc Kerry, a wealthy explorer from Australia, obtained a three years' lease from the Colonial office of the uninhabited guano-laden islands in the South Atlantic for $375 a year, he thought he had got hold of a bonanza dirt-cheap. But at present his speculations seem far more likely to land him in jail than to make a fortune for him. After an exhaustive police court hearing that has dragged along for nearly two months he has been held for trial on the charge of larceny on the high seas within the jurisdiction of the Admiralty of England. And indirectly it is all owing to his covetous yearning to convert those virgin guano heaps into cash.

The three little islands which myriads of sea birds have been enriching for centuries are known as the Inaccessible, the Nightingale and the Goff. They belong to the Tristan d'Acunha group. Tristan d'Acunha itself, the parent island, is only twenty miles in circumference and situated midway between the Cape of Good Hope and the coast of South America, is about the loneliest spot on the globe. But it serves as a home for some three score people, toward whom the Colonial office occupies the position of a species of benevolent godfather. So when the authorities there made the agreement with Mr. Kerry they inserted a clause to the effect that he should transport mails, supplies and presents for the islanders free of charge. Mr. Kerry had purchased an old gunboat, the Pandora, which he converted into a steam yacht, and when, in September, 1904, he announced his intention of making a trip to his guano island the Colonial office inserted an advertisement for supplies of foodstuffs, clothing, books, etc. Over forty boxes filled with all sorts of goods were shipped on the Pandora. Among those who responded to the appeal was the Duchess of Bedford. She sent a parcel of books to the Tristan folk. Bearing in mind that they are a primitive people and that few of them are able to read and write, it is rather interesting to note what sort of books the Duchess considered best adapted to their simple tastes. Among those she picked out for them were: A Lady of Quality, The Broom Squire, The Lunatic at Large, Folly Corner, Under the Red Robe, Palestine - Explored, People of the Mist and Forgotten Children. The Mission of Seamen confined their selection to devotional works.

Mr. Kerry had his own ideas of what sort of mental diet was best adapted to the Tristaners, and very likely they came nearer the mark than those of the Duchess. But he made a mistake in assuming that he had any right of supervision in the matter. According to the evidence, he chuckled many of the books, particularly the devotional ones, overboard. He told his crew they could help themselves freely to others. He allowed them the same privileges with regard to much of the clothing. On Christmas Day, by way of a joke, he rigged out his cabin-boy in feminine attire that some good-natured donor had intended for a Tristan d'Acunha belle. It is alleged that at St. Helena and Sierra Leone he sold some of the goods. He presented a portmanteau filled with books to the library on the island of Ascension.

The Tristanots got only a small portion of the things that had been intended for them, but in the blissful ignorance of what they had missed they were grateful for the gifts they received. None of the books that the Duchess of Bedford had selected with such painstaking care were among them, but that did not prevent Mr. Kerry, on his return home, from writing Her Grace, telling her how delighted the island folk were with the books she had sent them.

The voyage of the Pandora to Tristan d'Acunha and back was a jolly one, but some of the crew talked too freely of the good times they had had on board. Some of their stories came to the Rev. Mr. Stone's ears, and he started an investigation. To his horror he discovered that many pious works which he had fondly hoped would be the means of guiding the islanders safely to a better world had been consigned to Father Neptune. He made charges against Mr. Kerry, with the result that the whole story has been thrashed out in a police court and the venturesome explorer - he is credited with being the only white man who ever crossed New Guinea - instead of working his guano deposits has to remain in London under heavy bail awaiting his trial on a charge that the law regards as plain stealing.

Tristan d'Acunha, which is so seldom heard of nowadays, once possessed a national interest for Great Britain. It was in 1871 that the island was annexed, and its seizure was a tribute to the terror inspired by the name of Napoleon. St. Helena held him fast, but the dread of his escape led to the use of Tristan d'Acunha as a kind of watch-tower, from which conspicuous craft could be followed. With the death of Napoleon in 1821 the British soldiers were withdrawn, except Corporal Glass and two of his companies, who became the founders of the present colony, in which there is a strong admixture of negro blood.

The island, remote and small as it is, has had its history. Twenty years ago, when the population was nearly a hundred, almost the entire adult male inhabitants were drowned in a futile attempt to board a passing ship. At a later period they were threatened with being eaten out of house and home by a scourge of rats. But they fought rats with cats and conquered. According to the last missionary who lived among them, there are lots of ghosts on the island. That may be one reason why since he left them some ten years ago no other minister has been found bold enough to take his place. In some respects the inhabitants lead an idyllic existence, for they have solved the problem of living without that root of all evil - money.

AN ADVERTISING DODGE

The Winnipeg Free Press publishes the following special despatch from Medicine Hat: F. S. Pingle, real estate dealer of this town, has jumped into the field as an Opposition candidate to W. E. Knowles, the Liberal nominee in West Assiniboia. The candidature of Mr. Pingle is not taken seriously here, his attitude being correctly summed up as simply a move to achieve cheap notoriety. He has stated that although he does not expect to make a close run, yet the advertising which his personal business will receive will repay him for the outlay. He first announced himself as a Provincial Righter, then as a straight Conservative. He was forced to abandon these stands through the pressure brought to bear by the influential men of these parties, and definitely announced his retirement on Monday morning, but was again to the fore as an independent by noon. He has received no requisition to run, and is not in a position to man the polls or hold meetings. He takes the stand that the district will benefit through the country being put to the expense of spending money necessary for the holding of an election, and denounces the action of the Moose Jaw convention, when it decided not to offer any opposition to Mr. Knowles. He hopes to secure the vote of the Conservative element, which is dissatisfied with Mr. Haultain's advice in connection with this matter.

THE LOCAL RAILWAY SITUATION

The announcement that the Grand Trunk Pacific has secured the approaches for a bridge at Clover Bar by which the new line will cross the river en route to the city is welcome news to the people of Edmonton. This changes the aspect of the Grand Trunk Pacific in Edmonton from a purely prospective enterprise to an enterprise in the process of actual accomplishment. A railway company does not usually purchase a right-of-way until ready to utilize it. Money invested in an unused right-of-way is money lying useless and unless a delay in purchase would endanger the chance of securing desirable property a company will not sacrifice the interest on an unproductive investment. There is no reason in the present instance that the Grand Trunk Pacific Co. found it necessary to buy early to secure the land and the reasonable conclusion is that building operations will be begun in the vicinity of the city in the very near future. The purchase is thus considered as marking the practical introduction of what is expected to be one of the powerful factors in the industrial and commercial life of the city.

The selection of the bridge site of course does not delineate the course of the line through the city nor fix the location of the terminals but the crossing at Clover Bar is quite in line with the popular belief that the right-of-way through the city will lie north of the C. N. R. tracks and the terminals be placed somewhere in the vicinity of First street. This crossing too would be about as favorable as any should arrangements be made by the G. T. P. for double tracking and using the C. N. R. right-of-way and for locating union terminals on the C. N. R. station property. Such arrangements if practicable would doubtless be the most satisfactory possible, especially as the proposed route of the C.P.R. up Ninth street would permit the co-operation of that company also in locating all the terminals in the city on the C.N.R. grounds.

The selection of the Grand Trunk Pacific crossing practically assures also the speedy erection of the proposed high level bridge by which the C.P.R. will enter the city from Strathcona. The rumored arrangement by which the two companies were supposed to join in the construction of the Strathcona-Edmonton bridge has apparently fallen through and the decision of the Grand Trunk Pacific to erect an independent bridge puts it up to the G. T. P. to follow suit or see its new rival get on the ground first. That the order company will run the chances of any longer delay seems almost improbable. The C.P.R. has lost a very large percentage of Edmonton business by the completion of the Canadian Northern and is not likely to allow through negligence another large percentage to be captured by the G.T.P. More than this the C.P.R. has already announced the intention of spending $3,000,000 on western lines during the coming season, the most important of which extensions is the Saskatoon-Winnipeg road which will constitute the C.P.R. short line to Edmonton. This line will probably be complete this season, but to complete it without extending the C. & E. across the river would be leaving a gap which would destroy its usefulness. It appears probable therefore that the next move of the C.P.R. will be the erection of a bridge by which the C. & E. will enter the city, and in view of the circumstances that move is not likely to be long delayed.

THE BEGINNING OF A RAILWAY WAR

If the prophecies of the railway men are in any considerable degree fulfilled 1906 will make a record and a high record in western railway construction. President Mackenzie of the C. N. R. announced a short time ago that with opening spring, work would be commenced on the branches west and north-west of this city, though as to the length of track to be laid during the season or the ultimate destiny of the projected lines he was not prepared to give any information. Following this came the publication of the C. P. R. program calling for the expenditure of $3,000,000 in western extensions during the season. Meantime preparations for beginning work on the G. T. P. have progressed steadily and systematically all along the line, and the signs multiply daily that all that men and money can do in construction work will be done during the summer months.

This sudden activity marks the beginning of a three-cornered railway war for supremacy in the west. How protracted this struggle will be and how strenuously it will be waged may be measured by the prize at stake and by the financial strength of the competitors.

On the one hand is a corporation with practically unlimited capital and credit which for years has been piling up millions by grace of its monopoly of western trade. That this Company will not peacefully permit the new-comers to corral the rapidly expanding traffic whose beginnings have been found so immensely profitable is made quite apparent from the fact that the construction program of the Company for the coming year contemplates a greater mileage than has been built by the C.P.R. in the west during the past ten.

The second party in the rivalry is the Canadian Northern Co. From a small beginning some ten years since the Canadian Northern has expanded until its mileage in the Province of Manitoba compares quite favorably with that of the older Company while a direct line has been driven across the plains to Edmonton and another line completed westward from northern Manitoba to Prince Albert. Roads have also been acquired in Eastern Canada and surveys made west from Edmonton, which amply substantiates the claim of promoters that their road will one day be a transcontinental system. If this be the purpose of the Company there are the best of reasons for supposing that no time will be lost in accomplishing this ideal. Realizing that the C.P.R. on the one hand will exhaust every means to maintain the trade it has heretofore enjoyed, while the G. T. P. is pushing its arrangements for the completion of its through line from ocean to ocean, the C. N. R. may be relied on to continue the very vigorous construction policy already begun.

The third competitor in this Titanic struggle is the Grand Trunk Pacific and the reasons which compel the older concerns to rapid construction are quite as pressing on the new company. The Grand Trunk Pacific is designed primarily as a transcontinental system. As such its success will depend largely on securing a direct line with low grades, either of which might be rendered difficult by a delay which would permit the competitors already in the field to net-work the prairies with roads and to capture the most desirable passes through the Rockies. That the necessity for moving rapidly is thoroughly understood by the G. T. P. Co. is very clearly shown by the vigor with which the preliminary work has been pushed and there is no reason to suppose that the construction work when once begun will proceed any more leisurely.

Time is the essence of the contest and no one realizes the fact better than the men in charge of the rival enterprises.

The outcome of this struggle will be the transformation of the entire transportation system of the Dominion, and the replacement of the railway monopoly under which the west has groaned by conditions which will make possible the rapid and harmonious development of the country. In this longed-for change of conditions no point in the Dominion promises to profit more directly or more materially than the city of Edmonton. The main line of the Canadian Northern is already in operation to this point and two branches are now graded into the settlements west and northwest of the city, the Canadian Pacific line via Saskatoon and Winnipeg is designed as a competitive short line from Winnipeg to Edmonton, and will thus be equal in roadbed and equipment to the main line, while the Grand Trunk Pacific has secured a crossing which will enable that road to enter the city from the east. Each of these lines will open up hundreds of miles of new country and offer corresponding opportunities for the expansion of the city's wholesale interests; the convergence of the three roads will secure competition in freight and passenger rates local and through; the location of divisional headquarters for at least two of the lines will add hundreds to our population and correspondingly increase the retail trade, while the shipping facilities thus secured will encourage the establishment of the industrial enterprises for which our abundant fuel resources offer the advantage of cheap power.

FARMERS' PAGE

THE SEED FAIR.

The Seed Fair to be held in Edmonton, Feb. 12 and 13, promises to be one which no farmer can afford to let pass without attending. The primary object of the fair is to inform those who must buy seed grain as to where good seed may be obtained. But it has a more lasting purpose than this. The lectures which will be given on the afternoon and evening of each day are, for the purpose of instructing the farmers in the art of judging seed grain for themselves; of teaching them how to adopt more systematic and thorough methods of cultivating the soil to the end that they may avert a danger that has ruined many a district in the prairie provinces and is fast threatening our own, the danger of noxious weeds.

We often hear farmers say: "We know good seed when we see it and do not need to spend our time and money on these fairs and institutes." But a few hours visit to the local mills and elevators convince us that there must be a great deal of ignorance or carelessness on the part of the farmers, or a fraud must have been committed in the bluestone furnished them. If every farmer about Edmonton whose wheat was docked on account of smut; if every one who was given back from 10 per cent to 25 per cent of his seed in the form of light grains and weed seeds will attend these lectures, we venture the assertion that Robertson's hall will not begin to hold the multitude.

The committee that has this fair in charge has spared neither time nor expense in order to give every man the information he wants in the matter of judging and treating seed grain. For his benefit, the man who thinks his bluestone furnished him who not up to the mark, samples of good and inferior bluestone have been purchased and analysed. For the man who thinks his grain was not properly graded, certified samples of four grades of wheat and three each of oats and barley have been procured from the grain inspector at Winnipeg, so that every farmer can bring in a sample of his own and compare it with that which has been adopted as the standard; for the man who does not fully understand farming in Alberta an opportunity will be given to ask questions covering his difficulties and they will be cheerfully and carefully answered; and for him who is not satisfied with the conditions of the best market, an opportunity will be given to express his views at the farmers' meetings in the forenoon of each day of the fair.

It is the intention of the committee to leave samples of the grain exhibited in all of the printing offices in Edmonton and Strathcona with particulars as to the address of the owner, the name of the variety, the price asked and the amount for sale, in order that new comers may derive a benefit from the fair as well as those already here.

The prizes offered to the children enrolled in the rural schools have aroused an intense interest. In many districts, and the committee are considering the practicability of giving to the winners of the first prize in each school district one bushel of whatever kind of grain he may prefer on condition that he sow it himself and exhibit a two bushel sample at the next seed fair. We know of no better way of interesting the children in scientific agriculture, and after all it is among the children that Alberta is to obtain most of her future agriculturists.

Special arrangements have been made for lectures to the French and German speaking farmer and his wife, to the standards four and five of the rural schools, all of which we trust will be well attended.

THE FARMERS AND TAXATION

To the Editor Edmonton Bulletin: We have heard a good deal of talk lately about tariff and revenue. The delegation before the tariff commission made plain that the Alberta farmer is not protected at all by the tariff. On the other hand there are heavy custom duties on what he has to buy, farm implements, coal oil, cotton goods etc.—But the Government must raise revenue! Let us examine a little that question of revenue.—Who pays that revenue to the Government?—The consumer, of course.—Which consumers? The merchants, manufacturers, professional men, and laborers may sometimes pay it to the collector, but they get it back from their patrons or customers.

As they enjoy the privilege to set their own price on what they sell or what they produce, they simply add the customs duties to the price they ask for their goods, or their labor, or their services as the case may be. That class of consumers can easily pass the tax along to the other fellows, and they pass it along from one to the other till it comes to another class of consumers, commonly called farmers. These farmers, so far, have never been able to "set their own price on their products." They have never been able to pass their taxes along. They have always paid their own taxes and other people's taxes.

Farmers don't waste too much of of your time in asking relief from the Government in the shape of tariff reductions. You will have to pay the taxes some other way and it will not help you. But join the American Society of Equity and help the great movement international organization that will enable the farmers to set their own prices on their produce and pass their taxes along like other people do. If you want to hear more about the plan and the object of the Society of Equity, write to our secretary, W. J. Keen, Drawer 5, Edmonton, who will be pleased to give you all necessary information.

NETOR NOEL,
Riviere Qui Barre.

RESOLUTION re MEAT TRADE

At the provincial convention of the Society of Equity, a resolution was passed reading as follows:— "Resolved that the Government be urged to take steps to ascertain the state of our meat markets with a view to finding out whether we are suffering from over production or monopoly, or both, or any other cause; and that the Government take steps in the direction of remedying the present low prices by establishing plants to handle the meat products of the country."

Leithbridge News: Hon. W. H. Cushing, our Minister of Public Works, is the type of administrator Alberta will cheer for. He is not going to sit in his office and decide questions affecting his department. None of your arm chair legislation in his style. We find him out on the trail in Southern Alberta looking for spots where roads should be improved and bridges built. He will find plenty of such places, and that he will deal with them in a business like way and expeditiously is certain.

BACON HOG PRODUCTION

Ottawa, Jan. 29.—If the bacon trade of Canada is to continue to improve it is necessary that hog raisers adhere to the class of animals most suited to the requirements of the British market.

In the production of hogs of the lard type, Canada cannot compete successfully with the United States. A visit to the Chicago stock yards and to Western cattle feeding centres affords ample evidence of this. A large proportion of the cattle are fed on snappet or shelled corn. Herded with these are hogs that thrive and fatten on the undigested corn left by the steers. These hogs constituting a by-product of cattle feeding are produced at a cost much lower than pork can be raised in Canada. All United States hogs are not fed in this way, but a large proportion of them, at least the advantage of cheap corn, than which, there is no better feed for producing fat hogs of the lard type. Let the Canadian farmer go back to the thick fat type of hog, as some talk of doing because they have a grievance with the packer, and it will not be long before the Canadian bacon will have fallen to a level with the United States product which is usually from ten to fifteen shillings per hundred and twelve pounds lower than the quotation for Canadian "Wiltshire" sides.

It seems to be very generally supposed that pork is more cheaply and easily produced from the hogs of the thick short American breeds than from the three English breeds which are favored for bacon production. Why such a belief should be so general is difficult to understand as repeated tests conducted at various experiment stations have shown that hogs of the Yorkshire, Berkshire and Tamworth breeds produce pork as cheaply as those of the Poland China, the Chester, White or the Duroc Jersey breeds. In the opinion of Prof. Day of the Ontario Agricultural College, who is foremost among authorities on bacon production, the lusty, growthy pig of the bacon type is the most economical pork-maker we have, especially when reared, as bacon hogs should be, largely on such foods as roots, soiling crops and dairy offal.

There is much difference of opinion regarding the cost at which hogs fit for market can be produced and there is probably as much difference between the cost to one feeder and the cost to another as between these opinions. Under general conditions the production costs in the neighborhood of five dollars per hundred pounds on an average. In summer under favorable conditions the cost may be somewhat lessened but in winter pork can hardly be produced at the figures mentioned. As in all other lines of production the cost will vary according to the character of the animals fed and the amount of intelligence exercised by the feeder. Taking one year with another the Canadian farmer on good land, who understands crop growing and hog raising, can undoubtedly raise hogs as cheaply as the figures quoted, and probably for less. He will keep only such sows as will produce large lustrous litters of the right type. He will grow such pasture and soiling crops as clover, alfalfa, rape, vetches, mangels, sugar beets and such coarse grains as yield the greatest number of pounds of hog feed per acre. In other words he will manage his operations in such a way that will return him the greatest return in hogs per acre of land, and in so doing will learn to reduce the cost of raising hogs of the best type to a minimum.

Live Stock Branch,
Department of Agriculture.

MANITOBA SCANDAL.

(Kingston Whig.)
The Manitoba Legislature has been opened, and ere the members sat fairly in their seats a scandal was exposed. During the session the Roblin Government sold at a private sale, and to a minor official in its service, to the janitor of the old court house, 6,500 acres of swamp land in township 17, for $2.40 per acre. The land was timber—poplar, spruce, balsam, birch, tamarac, oak and elm. The whole was re-sold subsequently to the Anglia Land and Lumber company, less 4000 acres, for $200,000. The Government had reports from surveyors respecting the land so that it knew what it was doing when it disposed of the estate. The purchaser had not the money to buy the land and timber. He is a handy man to have around, like some of the clerks in the employment of the New York insurance companies in whose names transactions to the extent of thousands of dollars covered with some of the best were carried on. Some one's man Friday, doing the work he is asked to do. Who is the beneficiary by this scandalous deal

HE CRUMBLED.

Speaking in public recently Mark Twain said:
"I used to be an honest man. I am crumbling. No—I have crumbled. When they assessed me at $75,000 a fortnight ago I went out and tried to borrow the money, and couldn't; then when I found they were letting a whole crop of millionaires live in New York at a third of the price they were charging me I was hurt. I was indignant, and said: 'This is the last feather! I am not going to run this town all myself.' In that moment—I began to crumble. In fifteen minutes the disintegration was complete. In fifteen minutes I was become just a mere moral sandpile; and I lifted up my hand along with those seasoned and experienced deacons and swore off every rag of personal property I've got in the world."

A FIVER.

(T. P.'s Weekly.)

A fiver to the giddy youth—
A simple fiver seems in truth;
Some bric-a-brac or household god,
A day with hounds on hired quad,
A box of weeds to end in ash,
Another suit to cut a dash,
A little dinner, followed by
A game where other fivers fly.
Fivers thus spent are passed and gone—
Nothing accomplished, nothing done.
II.
A fiver to the careworn wife—
A glimpse of hope, a means of life,
To win the husband back to health;
To work, their only means of wealth,
To pay the rent, to fill the store,
To keep starvation's wolf from door;
New shoes for Tommy's chilblained feet,
A dress for Jenny, plain and neat,
Fivers thus spent are aye survive,
Make husband, wife, and children thrive.
